TRAITOR TO BRAZIL.

The Brand Put Upon Fonseca by the Press of Rio.

CONGRESS URGED TO ARREST AND PUNISH THE DICTATOR.

Events Which Followed Balmaceda's Fall May Be Paralleled at the Brazilian Capital—The Promise Said to Have Been Made on the Day of Abdication—Chilian News.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 27.—As predicted in former dispatches, the newspapers, which Fonseca muzzled for criticizing his assumption of imperial power, are demanding his impeachment and punishment by the Congress which he dissolved. The Dictator's Ministry are also held responsible by the press for the manner in which the Constitution has been violated during the short reign of Fonseca.

It has been stated, though the report lacks official confirmation, that when the agents of the revolutionists demanded Fonseca's abdication, he stipulated that he should not be tried for treason, in fact, that he should not be held responsible for his public acts, but should be permitted to retire quietly from the affairs of the nation. It is claimed by his former adherents that Da Gama and Wandehol, who bore to the palace the demand of the army and navy for Fonseca's abdication, agreed that he should not be molested. However this may be, it is not probable that these assurances of immunity, if they were given, will avail Fonseca. It is of course, impossible at this stage of affairs to predict the action Congress will take. The temper of the body may, however, be judged by the expression of Senator Americo Lobo, uttered at the time when threats were freely made by friends of President Fonseca that he would dissolve the law-making body, calling attention to these rumors the Senator said that if an attempt was made to execute the threat, Congress, imitating Mirabeau, would answer: "We are here by the will of the Brazilian people, and bayonets only can drive us from our post."

The world need not be surprised if the tragic events which followed Balmaceda's overthrow in Chile are closely paralleled in Brazil. The Rio News, the English newspaper of the capital, strongly urges Congress to deal with Fonseca and his Ministers as traitors everywhere are dealt with. All the states in the Brazilian union have now been heard from. Without exception they hail the downfall of Fonseca as Brazil's deliverance and applaud the selection of Floriano Peixoto as the Acting President of the Republic. The only sign of the recent disturbed condition of the nation is shown on the Uruguay River boundary where the Rio Grande boat where the squadron is still said to adhere to Fonseca. The fleet has moved north in Argentine waters. This incident is not regarded as serious at the capital, and may arise from the fact that the naval commander is not well informed of the status at Rio. Fonseca has resigned his commission as Commander-in-Chief of the army. It is still maintained that he is afflicted with an incurable ailment.

YORKTOWN AT VALPARAISO.

The American Gunboat Arrives in Chilean Waters—Thanksgiving.

VALPARAISO, Nov. 27.—The United States steamer Yorktown arrived in the harbor last night. Minister Egan and other Americans were entertained yesterday aboard the Baltimore in honor of Thanksgiving day. Boat races were included in the entertainment. Minister Egan was loudly cheered by the crew of the Baltimore.

The Yorktown is not as large a vessel as the Baltimore. She is an unarmored steel cruiser, 214 feet long, 35 feet beam, and has a mean draught of 14 feet. Her displacement is 1,700 tons. She has a maximum horse power of 8,000. With twin screws and horizontal expansion engine, the Yorktown has attained the speed of 16.5 knots per hour. Her armament consists of two 6-inch breech-loading rifles, two 8-inch and a battery of Gatlings.

Details of the Russian Railway Disaster—Casualties.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 27.—Detailed accounts of last Tuesday's accident on the Orel-Graze Line, by which over twenty-five persons lost their lives, are now being received here. As already reported a bridge was the scene of the disaster. By the breaking of a tie one of the carriages was thrown bodily over the parapet of the bridge into the river below. The first carriage in the fall dragged four others after it, and all five of them broke through the ice and disappeared. Another carriage falling on top of those which preceded it was overturned, being supported by the wreckage beneath it. Only the passengers in this carriage were got out at once. The disaster occurred in a desolate unpopulated region. Only a few railway officials were at hand and but scant assistance could be given to the injured immediately. It was possible, however, to send a telegram, in response to which, after a lapse of some time, a party of rescuers and doctors arrived on the scene from the city of Orel. Fifteen persons of those on the train were badly injured and have been sent to the hospital. The work of extricating the bodies from the mass of wreckage is proceeding, and at last accounts twenty-six had been recovered.

LOVE TRIUMPHED.

Why Miss Jarred Was Not Converted to Mormonism.

SEEKED PARENTAL COERCION AND IS HAPPILY MARRIED.

One Secret Loss for the Utah New Jerusalem—Cupid and a Policeman Doubt Teams on the Old Folks—A Michigan Village Goes Bodily Over to the Latter Day Saints.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 27.—For number of months some Mormon elders have been in the counties of Boone and Raleigh this state making converts. Among the converts have been a policeman and a named Jarred, one of the wealthiest in Boone County. The east-bound train on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Wednesday night brought four Mormons and the entire Jarred family to Guyandotte on their way to the Mormon settlement. There was a member of the Jarred family who had been converted. This was Miss Mildred Jarred, a beautiful girl 17 years old, who had a sweetheart, A. L. Griffith, a young lumberman. Although she begged pitifully to be left behind her father and mother were so desperate.

On the next train, which brought twenty more persons who were converts, Jarred arrived. During the night Mildred had escaped from her father but was caught and brought back. Griffith brought with him four friends and after vainly attempting to induce Mr. Jarred to allow Griffith to Mildred, a police officer was told of the affair. He gained admittance to the room Mildred was in, told her that Griffith was near and she could see him if she wished. A few minutes later she escaped. She was but 17 no license could be secured in this state. She had her father's consent, which was given. They at once hired a buggy and drove to Ohio, where they were united in marriage. A few hours after the train bearing the Mormons and their converts pulled out for Utah leaving the young people on the platform happy in their victory.

PROSELYTING IN MICHIGAN.
CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A special from New Branch, Mich., says: A Mormon elder by name of Taylor is converting the people of Millie, a small place seven miles south by the score. An exodus of the people is progressing. Millie is an old lumbering half abandoned and inhabited by a class of people peculiarly susceptible to the influence of the Mormon. They are poor and open air most of the time and his success has been great, the whole country for several miles around being greatly excited. The Mormon converts are among the most enthusiastic who announce an unalterable determination to repair to Salt Lake City there to be enrolled among the latter day saints. The people are so easily deceived and are so poor and devoid of description, that the Mormon and luxury of the Mormon had its effect as the promise of spiritual salvation. Communication with the world is difficult, full particulars are not obtainable. A far by the name of Coulter, lives in the infected district, was in North Branch and brought the first news of the Mormon progress. According to the people beside themselves, and the poor class arranging to emigrate to Utah, Taylor is figuring on a visit to Salt Lake to the courage of his followers and will lead a small army of converts to the far Coulter relates that the women seem more excited than the men over the cause of the Mormon question in their desire to be purified of their sins.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 27.—In the case of Chicago Sugar Refining Co., Baltimore, Judge Graham has had under advisement for the last six months, he has handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $44,241. The interest was manifested in the case by the fact that it was a test case for the policy issued by the Chicago company. All kinds of claims for boiler explosions, etc., were covered by the policy. The decision, which is the death of the sugar refining company, will result in the loss of whose deaths the company claimed $100,000 from the casualty company. The case was a spontaneous combustion. The rioters' trip there Monday has exploded the theory.

THE SPEAKERSHIP CONTEST.

Democracy cannot gather from this.

attempts now being made to infuse bad feeling into the speakership contest by spreading false alarms about its significance.

The other candidates were all as earnest and sincere supporters of the Cleveland administration and of tariff reform as Mr.

MILLS was. When it was given out that Mr. CLEVELAND intended MILLS as the one candidate whose defeat would be equivalent to "a black eye for tariff reform," Mr. CLEVELAND himself promptly and publicly disavowed any such view of the other candidates, and every Democrat in the land has good grounds for doing the same thing. There is no danger that the House elected last will choose a Speaker whose record on this question is impeachable or that any "follower of Dana and Ben Butler" will apply to that body for the honor of the Speakership. As to which of the candidates was the ablest and most judicious advocate of tariff reform there is room for an honest difference of opinion, but no ground for a serious falling out between Democrats.

Where so many rendered able and faithful service it is invidious to claim all the honor and credit for any one, and to deny and misrepresent the services of the others. Moreover, the Speakership should not be bestowed as a prize for extra campaign service, but as a most difficult and important trust reserved for men possessing of its duties.

The man whose imperturbable courtesy, good temper and unerring judgment enable him to command the respect of all parties in heated conflict, who is never the fool of passion or the tool of faction or prejudice, is the man for Speaker, whether he has ever made a campaign speech or not. The man who can preside over the House without desiring to be its dictator, organize it so as to give free and direct play to its collective wisdom, and make the most of his opportunities, is the man who therefore best serves his country and therefore his party in the Speakership.

The Congressmen who think that Judge

CRISP or Mr. SPRINGER or Mr. HATCH approaches nearer to the Carlisle model in this respect than Mr. MILLS should vote as they think, without reference to the personal preferences of Mr. CLEVELAND, Mr.

CARLISLE, Mr. DANA or any outsider who may possibly hope to get some little private ag ground by "whooping it up" for a particular House organization slate.

The rustic who called at the Treasury Department the other day after a 2 per cent loan on his Maryland farm was not altogether a fool. The protected manufacturers have been "assisted" by the Government for years, not with loans which they must repay but with gifts extorted from consumers by the coercive power of the law. The mistake of the Marylander was in thinking he could get a part of the plunder without being in the "push."

THE resignation of Chancellor CAPRIVI, which is widely and persistently rumored, has been expected sooner or later from the outset. His remark that he could not hold office longer and keep his own self-respect will probably be repeated by every Minister selected by the viceroy monarch who is so anxious to keep Europe's attention fixed on him as its "war lord."

"MOTHER" OBJECTED

A Contemplated Thanksgiving Marriage Which Did Not Take Place.

A LOVE AFFAIR WHICH IS FURNISHING FOOD FOR Gossip.

Why Miss Katherine Nugent and Young Henry Weis Were Refused a Marriage License—A Watchful Mother and a Determined Couple—An Elopement Looked for at Any Time—Weis' Age.

The people in the neighborhood of Easton and Taylor avenues are discussing what they consider a prospective elopement. The couple have not yet eloped but there are indications that they will do so providing that they are not prevented. They are Henry Weis, a young grocer at 448 Easton avenue, and Miss Katherine Nugent, an attractive young lady living at 224 Garfield avenue. Both are widely known in Madisonville and Cote Brilliante, their respective families having resided in that section of the city for years. The strongest objection to the union of the young couple comes from Mrs. Weis, the young man's mother.
She is stern and inexorable on the proposition that her son shall not marry, and her neighbors say she is keeping a vigilant watch on the movements of the couple. Several days ago she learned that the couple had completed arrangements to get married without delay. This did not surprise her, because she knew from the neighborhood gossip that they were engaged.

Without losing any time she hastened to Recorder Hobbs' office and cautioned Recorder Clerk Horman against issuing a license to her son. She told him that the couple had decided to marry Thanksgiving eve. Her reason for objecting, she explained, was due to her son's youth. "He was born," she said, "Aug. 11, 1872, and is only a few months over 19 years of age. When he is 21 he can do as he pleases, but I will not consent to his marriage while he is in his minority."

Clerk Horman promised to look into the matter carefully, and the determined mother then left the office apparently satisfied that she had balked the plans of the couple. To some extent she had, as later developments went to show. Wednesday last was a big day for marriage licenses and the clerk in that department had his hands full from morning until dark. Licenses were issued in every case excepting one, and the application of young Mr. Weis and his intended bride was the exception.

The couple came to the office with a man older than young Weis to serve as a witness. Weis and the young lady brought with them a clerk that they wanted a license to marry.
As soon as the clerk saw the young man thought of Mrs. Weis' visit and began playing the young man with questions.

"How old are you?" he asked the prospective groom.
"Twenty-one," was the prompt reply.
"When were you born?"
"Aug. 11, 1872," was the answer.

Other questions were asked of the applicant, and he answered them all. He was troubled only by the question of his age.
The young lady said she had seen her husband's name in the paper, but she was not satisfied on the score of Weis' age.
He declined to leave the license and couple left some time later. The clerk they left, however, they said their purpose was to become man and wife and that they would keep on trying until success crowned their efforts.

Reports from the part of the city where the couple reside go to show that there was quite a hurry about the matter. A report, it seems, was circulated that the couple had eloped and went to Clinton, Mo., in the evening and got married there.

NOT TRUE.
The rumor had it that they were to attend a funeral and go to the cemetery to be buried. They did attend the funeral it appears, but went in separate carriages and returned to their respective homes in the evening. Mrs. Weis was watchful all the time, and it is said that very early in the morning she returned from the funeral. She insists that he is 21 and says that she can easily prove it. Her son, on the other hand, insists that he is 21 and competent to get married. The story of the couple's elopement, it appears, belongs to his mother and he manages it for her.

Miss Nugent is considered quite handsome and is a member of a family that is well known in that section. She has, it seems, been keeping company with young Weis for a year or so. The neighbors say it is only a question of a few days when they will elude the vigilance that is now being exercised and receive the necessary license to marry. They will not, however, make another attempt to get the city, but it is expected will go elsewhere.
Both of the young people have many friends who are taking a lively interest in their love affair.

NO FIRE.
A False Report.
The big excitement caused by the big crowds in and about 808 Olive street, made many people believe that the place was on fire, which was far from being the reason of the thousands who visited 808 Olive street within the past few days. It's the big sacrifice sale of fine clothing that is attracting the crowds of eager purchasers to 808 Olive street.
Thousands of overcoats at $5, worth $15; at $6, worth $15; at $7.50, worth $20; at $9, worth $25; at $11.50, worth $30; at $12.50, worth $35. The suits that must be sold at this great, big sacrifice sale are the finest lot of goods seen in St. Louis for many a day.
$15.00 will buy a suit worth $30; $15 will buy a suit worth $25; $11 will buy a suit worth $20; it will buy a suit worth $15, at the great sacrifice sale of fine clothing at 808 Olive street.

CONTRACT TO DELIVER.
The man who is to deliver the goods for the most convenient to destination agreed to deliver to other parties to complete a word in that making a decided Manager DAMELL, says a matter of accommodation only to take the package in the town for which there is not a word, even printed matter, to warn the man that he may be an extra charge to him.

THE CORNELL COLLEGE TEAM DEFEATED BY MOST INHUMAN TACTICS.

They Will Never Send Another Eleven to the Windy City—How Yale Managed to Defeat Princeton—The St. Louis University Beaten—Opening of South Side Park—Sporting News.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A local paper has this: "Cornell will never play another game against the All-University team," was the positive statement made by Assistant Manager Baldwin of the Cornell team as he watched a half dozen of his men, parry the mighty Galbraith from the field in an almost unconscious condition. Galbraith had been badly hurt in an encounter with Alford, the left half back of the Chicago. Opinions vary as to whether Galbraith's injuries were the result of accident or intentional slugging. Cornell men asserted that Galbraith was "done" intentionally. Chicago partisans that form a necessary part of the game.

Continuing, Mr. Baldwin said, "I have seen many foot-ball games and have played in Cornell's team for ten years, but have never witnessed such a brutal and unprofessional game as this. Our half backs and our full backs have been throttled over and over again to-day, while those professional slugs, Donnelly and Mailey, pounded our men at every opportunity. Ames has played a rough game and has done dirty playing. In the dressing-room Galbraith was found in charge of Dr. Hitchcock, the physician of the Eastern team. He sat before the little stove shaking like a man with the ague. His face was covered with blood his mouth cut and swollen, one eye almost closed, and altogether his tout ensemble as such would have delighted a Roman audience in the time of Nero. "No," said he, "I don't know who hit me, but whoever it was hit straight from the shoulder. I was not down at the time but on my feet pushing ahead. The blow was a vicious one, and could not have been an accident. It is the roughest game I ever played in. If I have anything to say about the matter we will never play the Chicago again."

Dr. Hitchcock was very savage in his denunciations of the playing of the Chicago. He characterized their game as unscientific and brutal. "Our boys came here," said he, "expecting to play a good game of foot-ball, not to engage in a slugging match. They were met, however, with the tactics of the prize ring. If Donnelly and Mailey want a finish fight we have men who will accommodate them, but Cornell does not consider the foot ball field a proper place for such practice. My man here is badly hurt. I thought at first his left eye-bell was crushed, but now think his sight will not be affected. From my experience as a college physician I should say that his injuries could not have been accidental. I think one of his opponents struck him deliberately."

St. Louis, Nov. 27.—A smile of happiness radiated through the deposit of mud which coated the features of Capt. McClung as he was carried to the dressing-room of the team after the foot-ball game yesterday, and the reason for his joy was partly explained by a short conversation held with him while a brawny rubber was putting fresh life in his weary frame. Said he: "Princeton men have reason to be proud of their team, and I think there is little doubt that they put up a more scientific and a cleaner game than Harvard. I have not had time to realize that the months of training and planning are over. For the men who have worked so devotedly to play foot-ball for old Yale, I am very glad that they can go out of training under the most joyful of circumstances."

As Capt. Warren was leaving the field he was not too much occupied with sad reflection.

McClung kicked the goal, running the score up to 20 to 0 in favor of Yale.

The local game at Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon between the Christian Brothers' College and the St. Louis University resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 14 to 0. Paul Mcweeney and Burnet did the best work for the college, while Horace Dyer and Bob McDonald were most active for the University team. The game was witnessed by a large crowd.

TRUE STORY OF SERBIA'S BARGAIN WITH THE EX-KING.

English Army Officers Retired by Court Martial—English Elections—Balfour's Prediction—French Miners Growing Desperate—Obsequies in Honor of Lord Lytton—Parisian Gossip—Foreign.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Many stories are told in connection with the recent renunciation of ex-King Milan of all his rights in Serbia and his position in the Serbian army, but it is a question whether any of these stories contain more than a grain of truth. La Presse has a story which, if true, shows that there was no foundation for the rumors that the reason for the ex-king's action was his desire not to be trampled with the cars of state and to be able to spend his time in Paris. By the terms of his abdication in favor of his son Alexander, now the ruler of Serbia, it was provided that in the event of the death of King Alexander Milan would return as king of Serbia. By the renunciation of his legal rights in Serbia and the payment to him of a lump sum of money, literally selling of his birthright, Milan gave up all claim to the throne. La Presse's story has it that the Shah of Persia has appointed Milan Commander of the Persian Cavalry. Milan's statement just issued from Teheran, the capital of Persia, to organize the cavalry forces of the Shah.

BALFOUR'S PROPHECY.

HE DECLARES IRELAND WILL NEVER HAVE SEPARATE PARLIAMENT.

GLASGOW, Nov. 28.—The Rt. Hon. Arthur Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, who visited this city for the purpose of being installed as Rector of the University, being a principal speaker at a Conservative meeting held here, declared very positively that Ireland would never attain her desire to have Parliament in Dublin. In the course of which separate the Conservative and Liberal parties are more profound at the present time than they have ever been before in the memory of two generations of British statesmen. He declared that during the last 15 years the Unionists had had to fight for principles which were heretofore supposed to be under the guardianship of both parties. The Unionists, he said, would ever be on the side of order and law and morality, and that if in obedience to political expediency they relaxed their hold on these principles they would do the country the most profound injury. Later in his speech Mr. Balfour said that whatever the success of the Government policy in Ireland it was his duty to declare that the first duty of the Government was to see that the laws were obeyed, and by wise administration to increase the happiness of the people. Every part of Her Majesty's dominions, concluded Mr. Balfour, should be governed by the same principles, and that no matter what the future might bring forth would never bring home rule to Ireland.

ENGLISH ELECTIONS.

A UNIONIST ELECTED IN EAST DORSET—REAL GAINS.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The election for a member of Parliament to represent East Dorset, which was held yesterday, resulted in a Unionist victory. The vote was as follows: The Hon. Humphrey South (Unionist), 4,421; the Hon. Percy Glynne (Gladstone Liberal), 4,090; Unionist majority, 331. At the last election Mr. Balfour (Conservative, re-elected) received 4,700 votes in the division of East Dorset, and Mr. Glynne (Liberal) received 4,370 votes. In the following year by a majority of 330.

The Liberals, it may be added, have been very successful in recent elections in situations in which changes occurred at last general election. In the division of North Bucks, Canon Cornhill, North Loughborough and Stowmarket. In the division of South Dorset, the Liberals were defeated by only forty votes. In addition, three of the seats which the Liberals gained at the general election of 1890 were retained by the Liberal party. The division of Liverpool, Leith, Elgin and Nairn, finally, it will be recalled, was won by Mr. W. H. Walker, a Home Ruler, and the Gladstonian candidate, Lambert, being returned by a majority of 112 over the "Disunionist" Liberal, Mr. Mr. Buller, the result of the polling 4,222 votes for Mr. Lambert and 4,110 for Mr. Buller. At the same time, the division of Merton Lord Lynton (recently elected to the peerage on the death of Lord Lynton) received 4,000 votes, and the Liberal candidate, Mr. W. H. Walker, a Home Ruler, and the Gladstonian candidate, Lambert, being returned by a majority of 112 over the "Disunionist" Liberal, Mr. Mr. Buller, the result of the polling 4,222 votes for Mr. Lambert and 4,110 for Mr. Buller.
